SOUTH ENDS NOT EVEN NEAR 'CHAMPS'

West Ends Put it Over Hard in Two Games, 12 to 5 and 9 to 0.

The West Ends look good for the series with the South Ends as on the two games which these two clubs have played to date the South Ends have put up little or no opposition, being beaten yesterday 12-5 and on Saturday 9-0. Yesterday's contest at West End Park brought out a throng estimated at 5,000 people, the overflow making ground rules necessary. Two baggers were the best hits of the day. Cough-lin who on Saturday shut out his victims was again doing the slab stunts for the West Ends and did them well, though letting up slightly toward the end. Bert Liggins was hit hard, but the support given him would discourage any pitcher. Fourteen hits and 13 errors will not aid in winning games, errors will net aid in winning games, unless the other club does worse. About that support given Liggins, in the second session, there were two down and an easy fly was knocked to White in right field. A must was the result, and before another man was out five runs had crossed the board. The West Ends found the score board following these gifts for seven more runs. It looked like another shut out for the South Ends but in the sixth they bunched a few hits with the errors of the West Ends and copped three runs. Lone tallies followed in three runs. Lone tallies followed in the eighth and ninth. The score: WEST ENDS.

Saturday's game at Newfield was about the same as yesterday, only that the South Ends were shut out 9-0 for the losers, doing fairly well in the first few sessions, but letting up towards the end, the game assumed the nature of a farce, the large crowd demanding the retirement of Rocky. YOSTS FIELD DAY EVENT OF PLEASURE

Crack Ball Team Guests of Factory Hands.

WINNERS IN CONTESTS

The employes of the Union Typevriter Co. again did themselves proud on Saturday for they had as their guests the members of the Yost baseball team and a few of the officials of the factory at their annual clam bake and field day, which this year was held at Forest Grove on upper Main street. The field events were started at 10 as m., while the bake which was cooked to a turn was served about 2 p. m., about 106 sitting down to the festivities.

As special inducements for entries in the field events, silver medals suitably engraved were offered for the three to finish first in each event. The fact that a cigar would be given to each entry was not known till after the events were contested. In that event it is thought the entries would have been considerable.

Deen considerable.

In the running broad jump, Frank
White finished first, Tommy Smallwood second, and Mike Smalling third; distance 17 feet 7 inches. White also came across the wire first in the runming hop, skip and jump, with George Wilson second; distance, 38 feet 6 inches. The fifty yard sack race proved to be the most amusing feature of the morning's performance, being web by Tom Smallwood after an existing state. citing finish, Billy Dubee being a close second. Adam Adams made third by a foot. Time, 10 seconds.

In the 75 yard three-legged race, the team of Wilson and Smalling hiked it across the line a winner, closely followed by White and Keenan. "Deacon" Rohrback and Jess Lockwood were third in this event. Time, 11

Frank White could not be stopped from the winnings, coming in first in the 100 yard dash, Smallwood taking second. Time, 12 seconds. The big second. Time, 12 seconds. The big laugh of the day was the 100 yard dash (handicap) for foremen only. Eddie Brown, scratch man, proved to be the winner, breaking the tape just ahead of Herb Johnson. Mike Clabby finished a good third.

A ball game, between the regular shop team and a team composed of 18 of the remaining material in the factory was started, but subsided when a contest between the married and single men was proposed. The married men did well considering their handi-caps, letting their younger opponents win out by the close score of 3-1.

After the game, the 100 or more re-tired to the auditorium where they were entertained by feets in leggardewere entertained by feats in legerde-main by Prof. Le Brazos, who is an employe of the factory. Prof. Le Brazos mystified his onlookers by the cleverness of his work. The Yost quartette, consisting of M. J. Clabby, Harry Cooper Hugh Robinson and Harry Cooper, Hugh Robinson and Herbert Johnson rendered a number of selections.

Besides the members of the Yost ball team there were also as guests of the employes A. E. Veness, superintendent of the factory; G. W. Burgess, assistant superintendent, and F. A. W. Arm-Regnery and Tom Keenan.

MANAGER PRIDE REPLIES TO SMITH

Sporting Editor of the Farmer:
Dear Sir:—In answer to the statements made by Charles Smith, manager of the Batcheller baseball team, as to how his team could win when the directors bet money against them and lost, I am the one referred to. In justice to myself I wish to say that this is false. Some of the players on the Jennings Brothers team wished to back the Birdsey-Somers and gave me the money to place for them. This money was placed in Mr. Smith's hands as stake holder. Mr. Smith's was also stakeholder in a number of bets. All the other bets were called off except this one. Now I would like as to how his team could win when off except this one. Now I would like to know what right Mr. Smith had to make this bet an exception in a pre-tested game? I would also like to make it clear that I was the only director who made a bet and yet the Rightey-Somers protest was carried by Birdsey-Somers protest was carried by a vote of 4-2. If Mr. Smith would search his memory he would remember that at the time of the Birdsey-Somers-Loco game he had a roll of offering to bet any amount on Birdsey-Somers. In regards to the sportsmanship of Mr. Smith, in his protest against the Locos which he won, he threatened to withdraw his Birdsey-Somers. team from the leggue if he lost, as he also did in this case. These are facts, not insinuations.

THE GREAT ITALIAN RUNNER, LUNGHI.

(By Harry Franklin Porter, Amateur Champion High Jumper.)

(All Rights Reserved by the Author.)

It is frequently asserted that European nations, and especially the Latins, are decadent, lack virility and stamina. That they may have been in times past, but that they are no longer, judging by the numerous evidences of late to the contrary-some of them of the most emphatic order. Of such were the performances of the Italian athletes Dorando and Lunghi at the Olympic games in London last year and in this country since. Seldom in the history of athletic sport, or other lines of heroic endeavor, for that matter, has there been such an exhibition of pluck and stamina as that put forth by the game little Dorando in that memorable Marathon race from Windsor Castle to the Stadium, the details of which have become table talk among sportsmen the world around. And seldom has there been showed forth, by the athletes of this or any country, such remarkable natural running as that by Dorando's compatriot Emilio Lunghi, in the 800 meter race at London, in which he was beaten out in an exciting finish by the great Sheppard alone. Had the runners been of equal experience the issue might have been reserved. At any rate the marvelous running of Lunghi attracted the universal admiration of the American contingent at the games, and a great future was prophesied for him. That future, or at least a substantial stepping stone to it, has already been achieved. Lunghi, following in the wake of the triumphant visit of his fellow-countryman Dorando, no sooner had the latter departed from these shores, signified his intention of also visiting here. With this difference, however, that whereas Dorando came to seek and find the golden fleece, Lunghi came for glory alone. He is an amateur still and so intends to remain.

One fine day in June Emilio Lunghi walked down the gang-plank of the steamer and into the hands of Trainer Robertson of the Irish-American Athletic Club of New York. He was invited to make Celtic Park-the athletic grounds of the I. A. A. C.-his headquarters, and to avail himself in full of the advantages it offered to pursue $ his training. This courtesy he was not slow to accept. And so, under Lawson Robertson's careful tutelage, he began his preparation for what has proved to be the most wonderful round of record breaking running seen in this country or any country in many a moon.

His speedy development and truly marvelous showing in the few months he has been on this side are not only a splendid tribute to himself and his race but to what American training methods can accomplish. This is the land where opportunity flourishes luxuriantly and individuality blossoms into full bloom. Lunghi was extra-fine abroad but a few months on American soil has served to refine even

One day, in a trial race at Celtic Park, Lunghi astonished everybody by coming home in a fast field in the quarter mile in the very good time of 50 seconds flat, which on this track was exceptionally good. A few days later, at the Tailtin games, at Celtic Park, on Labor day, he came home in the 800 yard Special in the record breaking time of 1 minute 27 2-5 seconds, thus supplanting figures that had stood for nearly 30 years. The former record, made by L. E. Meyers, at Williamsbridge, N. Y., in 1882, was 1 minute, 31 seconds.

In this great race he defeated the mighty Sheppard. But, in justice to hero of London let it known that he was far from being at his best. Otherwise he had proved a far tougher proposition. Sheppard and Lunghi will meet again in a 1,000 yard race at the Indoor National Championships at Madison Square Garden. Oct. 4 and 5, which games will also celebrate the Hudson-Fulton Memorial. One of the greatest races in the history of sport is due. Gissing of the N. Y. A. C., and Bromilow of the I. A. A. C. next to Sheppard the two greatest half-milers in the east, and Edmundson, of the Seattle A. C., National Champion in the half-mile at Seattle, will also like'y compete. The 1,000 yards record is also held by L. E. Meyers, and was made in 1881, being according to the Spaulding Official Almanac, 2 min. 13 sec. If it does not fall before this bunch of marvels, headed by the great Lunghi, followers of sport will be considerably disap-

Following close upon h's new 700 yard record, Lunghi, in the Canadian Championships at Montreal, September 15, smashed the time honored half-mile record, which half-milers the world-over have in vain been trying to break for 14 years. It was in 1895, on the occasion of the dual meet between the London and Ney York Athletic Clubs, at Manhattan Field, New York, that Charles H. Kilpatrick came home in the half-mile in the record breaking time of 1 min. 53 2-5 sec. Lunghi came home at Montreal, closely pursued by Frank Riley, of the I. A. A. C., in the remarkable time of 1 min. 52 3-5 sec., thus clipping the record 4-5 seconds. Riley was scarcely a second behind him and was undoubtedly close to the former record as well. Melvin Sheppard's winning time in the 800 meter at London was 1 min. 52 4-5 sec., which is equivalent to about 1 min. 54 seconds for the half-mile, the 800 meter lacking only 5 yards of the half. This was shaving the world's record pretty close and it was generally expected that Sheppard would prove to be the successor to the immortal Kilpatrick. And there are many who believe that he will yet prove to be the superior to Lunghi and supplant even his wonder ful figures. If so, all honor to him, but his so doing will in no wise detract from the present showing of the Italian marvel.

Lunghi is an interesting personality. In physique he is a vertible Apollo-there is little to be desired in this respect. And in bearing and poise he is every inch a no bleman-one of nature's noblemen. He comes of good family, his native city being Genoa, home also of the immortal Christopher Columbus, and possesses a fine education. He qualified at the University of Genoa in Marine Engineering, and has pursued post-graduate study in Naval Architecture for two years. His purpose in coming to this country is, as he himself states it, "to learn the English language and to compete in American athletics." He was born March 16, 1887, and so is a shade better than 22 years. He stands close to 6 feet in height and weighs in the neighborhood of 170 pounds stripped, and in every respect is perfectly proportioned. He runs strongly and easily always, never seeming to strain, and usually takes a good pace at the start which he holds throughout. He has yet to develope a sprint. In fact, that he was bested by Sheppard at London, and by Harry Gissing on three occasions in this country by a close margin, was due, no doubt. largely to his lack of sprint, and his fallure to judge the standards of his riva's. If he wins it is because he is so far shead when the sprint begins that he cannot be caught. Undoubtedly, under the influence of American methods, he will sooner or later develop a sprint -and then look out!

He has been running for about 8 years. Prior to the games at London, he had never attempted the middle distances, confining himself to races from 2 to 10 miles in length. He had the honor on two occasions of vanquishing the plucky Dorando in two ten-mile races in his own country. He also won the Italian championship in the 1,500 meters a number of times prior to his London debut. He gives his best performances as follows:

800 meters, 1 min. 52 sec.

One mile, 4 min. 20 sec. 440 yards (quarter-mile), 50 sec. flat. (At Celtic Park.)

*700 yards, 1 min. 27 2-5 sec. (At Celtic Park.)

*880 yards (half mile,) 2 min. 52 3-5 sec. (At Montreal.)

Lunghi, although an Italian, is competing in the colors of the Irish-American Athletic Club, the greatest cosmopolitan athletic organization in the world, and is a great favorite with his teammates. his gentility of manners, democracy of spirit, and rare ability winning him general admiration and many good friends. His improvement since his arrival here is due, no doubt, very largely training he has had under Lawson Robertson; indeed, he frankly gives full credit to "Robby" and the club whose hospitality and liberal policy has made it possible for him to train so advantageously and to compete under the most favorable circumstances. He has this to say with regard to his hosts:

"Since being in this country I am pleased to say I have found the American athletes a very fine and sociable lot of fellows and they have treated me most kindly."

Although Lunghi has announced his intention of staying with us only two years, while he is acquiring facility in English, he will, no doubt, find America so to his liking as to become, like so many of his excellent fellow-countrymen, citizens of this great and vast Conmopolitania, haven of all the earth. He will be a welcomed addition, and if, on the contrary, he adheres to his original intention, Americans-at any rate those who have had the pleasure of meeting and knowing him-will be very sorry. His kind are rare and ever welcomed to these shores. Long live Emilio Lungh!!
